The Electric Car & Auto Show is produced by the National Automobile Dealers Association (NADA) in partnership with the Atlanta Convention and Visitor's Bureau. The event is free and open to the public. "The electric car revolution is about to hit home and it is a strong force that will be felt by the auto industry, but also by the auto show industry," said Larry Schweiger, Chairman of the National Automobile Dealers Association. "With the arrival of electric vehicles and their growing popularity, the automotive industry will be forced to fundamentally change the way it does business." The show is made possible by the partnership between NADA and the Atlanta Convention and Visitors Bureau, as well as by generous support from the city of Atlanta and the Georgia Environmental Protection Division (EPD). The Electric Car & Auto Show will feature 150 of the most innovative and energy efficient electric vehicles on display, including the electric vehicle of the year, the Chevy Bolt. This is a great opportunity for EV owners to have their cars showcased at a major event and consumers to learn about the EV industry. Here's a look at some of the electric cars that will be on display: City of Atlanta Announcing plans for a new green-living neighborhood in Atlanta that will feature a variety of commercial and residential development. The first phase of the development will include The City Green residential development.
