What's New In Lightroom Voyager?

Voyager is a plugin that makes it easy to import and export photos between Lightroom and other applications. You can synchronize a single photo or photo collection, or hundreds of photos, between your computer and a Photostream, a Facebook, Picasa, Flickr, or other external service. To make it easy to manage multiple import/export configurations, Voyager has a built-in converter to let you import photos into Lightroom from other applications. How to install Voyager: In your Lightroom installation, open the Plug-ins manager and select Add-ons, and then Install Plug-ins from the Actions drop-down menu: In the Add Plug-ins dialog, select Voyager from the list, and then choose Install. Click Install Now, and then click OK. Select Voyager from the Plug-ins dialog: You can also find Voyager in the Lightroom Catalog window by scrolling to the bottom of the window, where it is listed as Voyager. Click the orange Install button to install Voyager. Notes: Voyager, by default, is not installed in the Catalog window: Click the Catalog window and then click Edit. In the Catalog window, click the arrow on the right side of the Voyager item in the Catalog window: Drag the arrow to the right of the Voyager item, and then click and hold the button on the Voyager item to make it larger: Drag the Voyager item to the right of the Adobe Catalog item: To open the Voyager window, click the Voyager item in the Catalog window: To close the Voyager window, click the Voyager item in the Catalog window: Voyager is in the Import section of the catalog window: Click the arrow on the right side of the Import section, and then click Import: To import a catalog, select the catalog from the drop-down menu and then select the Destination from the drop-down menu. Import an external catalog (or the default Lightroom catalog): To import a catalog from a different Lightroom installation or a different computer, click the arrow on the right side of the Import section, and then select Import From External Lightroom Catalog: Click the path to an external catalog: Select the Import Source from the drop-down menu. The External Lightroom catalog is a preview. The plugin will open the catalog in an external application that supports Lightroom File format. The plugin will bring down all of the photos and metadata from the external catalog and load them into Lightroom: Click the Import button to import the photos and metadata: To import only the photos, click the Edit menu and then click Select Exported Items: After the import is complete, the plugin automatically closes the external application. In your Lightroom installation, click the Catalog window and
